

Mitsubishi Electric increasing jobs in Ireland

Dublin, Ireland 21st December 2015

Last year Mitsubishi Electric a global, leading green technology company, re-affirmed their commitment to Ireland with the announcement of a multi-million euro investment in their Irish operations, as well as a boost in staff levels. Since this announcement, Mitsubishi Electric has grown from strength to strength and has taken on even more staff to meet increasing demand.

Some of the recent appointments for the Air-conditioning and Heating divisions (LES) of Mitsubishi Electric include; Richard Sherlock as the Field Sales Manager and Daragh O' Neill as the Operations Manager. Neil Maher joined the marketing team as a Marketing Executive. December also saw the appointment of Fergus Daly as an Area sales manager for the Eastern Region. On the Factory Automation side of the business, John Kelly joined as a Business Development Executive.

Ciaran Moody, General Manager for Mitsubishi Electric Ireland, on the recent appointments and growth of the Irish Branch; "Mitsubishi Electric has a strong heritage in Ireland going back over 30 years and our latest investment in staff demonstrates Mitsubishi Electric's confidence in the Irish branch and in the Irish economy. I believe these recent appointments of highly talented staff will help strengthen our team as we continue to grow throughout the Irish market."

The three divisions of Mitsubishi Electric driving growth in the area of sales and marketing across Ireland are the Factory Automation division, which offers a vast range of automation and processing technologies, the Air-conditioning division, offering solutions to cool and ventilate your world, and the Heating division, which offers reliable heating and hot water regardless the weather.

Richard Sherlock, Field Sales Manager for the Air-conditioning and Heating divisions (LES).

Daragh O' Neil, Operations Manager for the Air-conditioning and Heating divisions (LES).

Neil Maher, Marketing Executive for the Air-conditioning and Heating divisions (LES).

John Kelly, Business Development for Factory Automation Division.
